

Dagda

A pixelated map of Latvia is shown in the background. A red dot is placed on the southeastern coast of Latvia, indicating the location of Dagda. The map is rendered in a low-resolution, dithered style with a color palette of light blues, greens, and greys.

Dagda is a small town in south Easter part of Latvia historical region called Latgale, 267 km far from the capital Riga. It is located on the shore of a great lake (480 ha) with many islands.

Dagda municipality is a municipality in Latgale, Latvia. The municipality was formed in 2009 by merging 11 parishes: Andrupene parish, Andzeļi parish, Asūne parish, Bērziņi parish, Dagda parish, Ezernieku parish, Konstantinova parish, Ķepova parish, Svariņi parish, Šķaune parish and Dagda town the administrative centre being Dagda.

-
- Centre: Dagda
 - Area: 948,8 km²
 - Population (2009): 9.559
 - Density: 10,07 pop./km²
 - Formed: 2009
 - Mayor: Viktors Stikuts

The symbol of Dagda town is Phoenix – the bird burning and reviving out of ash. Dagda town was burnt down several times and revived again.

Dagda has flag and an emblem with this symbol.

Roman Catholic Church in Dagda

National architectural monument. Here can be visited works of art :altars, organ, pulpit, sculptures, Helzenu counts family monument, etc.

Lubāna hillfort

The relative highness about 30 m. In the mountain is stayed the old well. The place with different stories, on the place of previous church existed a mountain. From the mountain is beautiful view on Dagda town.

Cave of Dagda

A photograph of the Cave of Dagda, showing a dark, rocky opening in a forested area. The cave entrance is a dark, irregularly shaped hole in a rock face, surrounded by moss and lichen. The surrounding environment is lush with green foliage and trees, suggesting a forest setting. The lighting is natural, highlighting the textures of the rock and the surrounding vegetation.

It is naturally formed cave in artificially made catacomb. By the legend, there is a several kilometers long tunnel under Dagda.

Estate park in Dagda

A photograph of an estate park in Dagda. The scene is dominated by a large, well-maintained green lawn in the foreground. In the middle ground, there is a long, low red building with a flat roof, possibly a clubhouse or administrative building. To the right of the building, a person is visible walking on the lawn. The background is filled with a variety of trees, including tall, thin deciduous trees and some evergreens. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and scenic.

It is wonderful place. It is included in most the routs. Interesting history. In park are caves of Dagda and open-air stage.

The old houses the beginning of 20.century

There can be seen the architectural forms of dwelling-houses of 20. century. The monument of cultural history of the local value.

Dagda town Municipality

